TROY, KANSAS:

Thursday, : : December 11, 1879.

Historical. Hon. James F. Legate, of the Leavenworth Press, is publishing a series of interesting personal recences of public men whom he knew in the early days of Kansas. A recent one related to Gov. Robinson. Is he not slightly out of his reckoning, in saying that the "English Bill" was the foundation of the Lecompton Constitution Our recolection is substantially as follows : The Democratic Legislature, in the winter of 1857, passed an act providing for a Constitutional Convention, to be held at Lecompton. The delegates were based upon a census taken by Proslavery officers, and a registry of voters made by officers of the same party, who made it convenient to leave most of the Free State voters out. The election was held in June, at which only Pro-Slavery men voted, except in one or two small Counties in Southern Kansos. The Constitution was framed, with an article in favor of Slavery. In submitting it to the people, they were given the privilege of voting for the Constitution with slavery, or the Constitution without slavery-but the Constitution they must vote for, if they voted at all. And as only Pro-Slavery men were registered, of course it would be voted for with slavery. The election was held in December, and nearly all the votes were for the Constitution with slavery. The Legislature, elected in October, untrammeled by the Pro-Slavery registry, contained a majority of Free State men. It passed a joint resolution, submitting the Constitution to a vote of the people squarely for or against. The election was held early in January, and resulted in an overwhelming majority against the Constitution. Most of the Pro-Slavery men refrained from voting. This vote was sent up to Congress as a protest against the admission of the State with that Constitution, and to offset the vote of December. The Douglas Democrats held the balance of power in Congress, and would not vote to force that Constitution upon Kansas, as things then stood. Then it was that English, of Indiana, reported the bill that afterwards took his name. This bill re-submitted the Constitution to a vote of the people; but it was baited with tempting bribes in the shape of immense land grants to the State, if the people would accept the Constitution. The bill passed; but the people of Kansas regarded it as the offering of a bribe. That Constitution was not of their choice or making, and they would not be forced nor bribed into accepting it. The vote was taken in August, 1858, and resulted in an immense majority against the Constitution. That Free State Legislature passed the bill for the Convention which framed the Leavenworth Constitution, in the Summer of 1858, but it came

A LAW NEEDED .- Kansas very much needs a law, or, if she has it, needs its strict enforcement, to wit: In criminal cases, which are not ready for trial at the term set, or which are continued until a subsequent term, for any reason, the prosecuting witness, or the principal witses for the State, should be required to give substantial bail for their appearance at the appointed time-something stronger than personal recognizance. It has come to be a common practice for persons under criminal charges to buy off the prosecuting witness, and have them absent at the critical time, or the witnesses straggle off, taking no interest in the case. This thing has been a heavy expense to Doniphan sas will give 50,000 majority for Tilden, or any County. Men have been arrested, and kept in jail for months, or have postponed their trial, at a heavy cost to the County; and when the time for trial finally came, the whole thing had to be dismissed, and pernaps witnesses and officers deprived of their fees, because the prosecuting witnesses have been got out of the way.

to naught. The Legislature of 1859 passed the that framed the Wyandotte Constitution, under which the State was admitted. Another of Mr.

Legate's errors is in stating that the Legislature which was given to the Free State party by Walker and Stauton throwing out the fraudulent votes, was the one that made provision for the Wyandotte Convention. The Legislature that did this was elected in November, 1858, and there was no trouble in the election.

GRANT AND BLAINE .- A number of the Kansas editors, who responded to Col. Anthony's circular asking for an expression upon the Pres idential question, named Grant and Blaine as their favorites for President and Vice-President. They might as well have said Blaine and Grant: for it is just as likely that Grant would accept the tail end of the ticket as that Blaine would The Vice-Presidency is too insignificant a thing. to waste such a man as Blaine upon, and chuck him away for four years, to be forgotten. The Vice-Presidency would be a desirable place for a great man only if it were certain that the President would die; but the Republicans do not want to elect a man with a prospect of that

Gov. St. John has refused to accede to the petition, numerously signed, to pardon Maj. E. P. Bancroft from the penitentiary. Maj. Bancroft was a man of high character, who, in an evil hour, when pressed financially, committed a violation of the law, thinking he could replace if the assertion were true—which it is not. That the funds misplaced before they were called for. He is not the kind of man for the Governor to pardon, and is not backed by the right kind of is, that the Herald seems to have as little use a petition. Now, if some miserable brute who had murdered his wife and children was about to be strong up, and a good-sized country Sunday school, headed by the Superintendent and teachers, were to come around him, singing and offering up prayers, and asking for mercy for the criminal, the Governor would melt at their feet, and they might dip him up and use him for whatever they chose.

The price of printing paper has advanced one-half, since the first of October, and is still going up. A bundle of paper that cost $6 then costs $9 now. Yet many people think newspapers cost too much. We shall not increase our price of subscription on account of the rise. We did not do it during the hi gh prices of the war. they are coming, and must be taken care of, But as we assume the loss, when printing goods go up, we hope our subscribers will not begrudge us the benefit, when material is low. It may b as well to state the fact, that all goods used by printers are among the first to go up, when prices increase, and are the very last to come down, when low prices rule.

If the election of the next President goes to the House, the controling vote will be that of all those old fellows to join the Odd Fellows De La Matyr, the Indiana Greenbacker. In a when they feel themselves giving out, in order recent interview, he stated that in such a contingency, be should vote for the Democratic candidate. It is a matter of no consequence, for the election will not go to the House; but it is another proof of what we have repeatedly held up to Republican Greenbackers, that the Greensk party, boiled down and sorted over, is nothing more nor less than an arrangement to aid the Democratic party.

The St. Joseph Herald says that Capt. Lee's report of the Kansas-Nebraska boundary survey was made to Joseph Wilson, Commission er of the General Land Office, and not to John Wilson, as the Chief has it. It is no mistake of ours. It is John Wilson, as plainly as "penwritin" can make it, in the copy before us, certified to be a true copy of the original report, by J. M. Armstrong, Acting Commissioner, un-der date of August 9th, 1879.

His MOTHER.-When Grant was daily expected at San Francisco, his mother, living somewhere in New Jersey, fon lly romarked: "When he does come, he will hasten straight to his nother. I know they will all want to have him with them, but he will come to his mother first. Ulysses was always a dutiful son, and they cannot keep him away from his mother." Poor, doting old mother! she believed what she said. But he landed, and they kept him and feasted him at San Francisco, in Oregon, and in Nevada; they feasted him at his home in Galeus, and in Chicago; they are about to feast him in Louisville and Cincinnati; but he has not hastened to his old mother yet. In fact, he has refused an invitation to feast in New York which would take him right to his mother, but is preparing to winter in Cuba and Mexico, and to commend feasting in Colorado in the Spring, and feast his way castward again. The engineers of the Grant "boom" are fattening him for the political market, and his poor old mother must wait in disappointment-perhaps die during the Winter, before he thinks of hastening to her.

HE DOESN'T KNOW ANY BETTER.-The Chicago Inter-Ocean indignantly asks what Hayes mean by trying to re-open the money question in his Message, when everything is going so smoothly and satisfactorily, and when the Republican party needs perfect harmony in its ranks for 1880, without any financial discussions. Hayes did it, because he didn't know any better, and thought it was smart. A man whose first official act was betraying and selling out his party in the South, cannot be expected to take much pains to promote the election of a Republican cessor. If he were travelling in the passes of the Alps, where a word spoken aloud may cause a vibration that will bring an avalanche down upon the unlucky travellers, he would think it a smart trick to yell and bring destruc tion not only upon his own fool bead, but upon all his comrades. When the Republicans elect amiling idiots to office, they must not complain if be goes off catching flies at the critical moment when his belp is needed.

The newspapers have a passion for cred iting anything good to whatever publication happens to be the sensation of the day. The Burlington Hawkeye and the Detroit Free Press are getting credit for a good many things that do not belong to them. Just now we find the old poem, "The Chemistry of Character," rela tive to John, and Robert, and Peter, and Paul, credited to the Burlington Hawkeye, as a new thing. The Chief has published that poem three times in the last five years. It was old when we got it, and had long been floating around authorship unknown.

The forgoing paragraph was in type last week but was crowded out. We have since found the following in the Atchison Champion, which is answered above:

THE papers are publishing a new poem called the "Chemistry of Character," and crediting to the Burlington Hawkeye. If we remember correctly, it has been published in the Troy Chief several times, and isquite old. Will Mr. Miller tell whether the Hawkeye

The Republicans of the St. Joe Congress bill under which the Convention was called ional District, over in Missouri, thought they were doing a big thing, when they helped to elect Nicholas Ford, the Greenbacker, to Congress, in order to beat the Democrats. They have never received any decent treatment in return; and now we see somebody has been interviewing him on the Presidency, and he express es his preference for Bayard. He abandons his Greenback principles, and chooses the leader of the hard money men as his favorite Presidential candidate—the worst foe to greenbacks in Congress. He does this as a bid to be made the Democratic candidate for re-election. But the Democrats will throw him aside, like a chewed quid of tobacco. The Republicans always get sold, when they help to elect an enemy to their party to office, in order to beat somebody.

> A Kansas correspondent of the Louisville Courier-Journal says that Grant and St. John is the favorite Presidential ticket in Kansas, and that the people of Kansas are wild for St. John for Vice-President. Yes, there never was such excitement in the history of Kansas. If St. John is not nominated for Vice-President, Kan by tens of thousands; and the correspondent of the Courier-Journal will go hang himself. As additional proof that there is a good opening for the fool-killer in Kansas, this correspondent says that St. John would be a strong candidate in the South, because of his active exertions in the negro exodus business!

> It is said that the Senator appointed by the Governor of Michigan, to fill Chandler's place, is very unpopular, having no personal magnetism, and without a following. This is the usual fault with these appointments by Governors. They want to draw it so extremely fine, that their appointments are usually ex tremely thin. This is one of the chief reasons why so many people in Kansas who have no admiration for Ingalls, are indifferent to the attempts to unseat him; for they feel that the Governor would fill the place with a first-class icicle, or milk-sop, or some fellow whose forte was superintending a country Sunday school.

The Wyandotte Herald expresses its prefrence for Tilden and Randall for President and Vice-President. Its reason for prefering Randall is, that he has saved the Government $100, 000,000 by his economy. This is complimentary so-called economy will yet prove to have been a beavy expense. But the strangest thing of all for a Southern man on the ticket as the Republicans have.

ST. LOUIS GLOBE-DEMOCRAT .- The coming omentous political year, everybody will want the leading and liveliest newspapers, not only for politics, but for general news and markets Among such papers, the St. Louis Globe Demo-crat stands high, and will be of special interest. This is the time to forward subscription for the next year. See the prospectus, in another col-

The colored exodus from the South is growing in proportions. They are stampeding from Texas to Kansas. This, when winter is just setting in, betokens much suffering. But beavy as the tax will be. Neither the Governor nor any one else is doing those people a kindness or the State service by encouraging this stampede.

Prof. Mudge, late State Geologist, was a member of Class A, Odd Fellows' Benefit Association, which entitles his family to $1500 insurance money. We believe it is a practice with to get the insurance. But it is rough on those who have been carrying the thing along for ten or a dozen years.

Last week's Hiswatha Disputch gets the text for nearly all its editorials from the Chief. It also slung the Bible at us voluminously. The Bible states that Jesus Christ o nee made wine -and it was not for medical purposes, either. When the prohibitory amendment is adopted, Jesus Christ must keep away from Kansas.

If it were customary in these days to kill people with lightning, as it was in the days of Ananias, there would be lots of lightning, this winter, wherever Jay Gould goes, and the editorial ranks would suffer.

WOTICK is hereby given, that the Commissioners appointed by the District Judge of Doniphan County, will proceed to lay off the railroad route of the Atchison, St. Joseph, and Wathens Railroad, spon file lifth day of January, 1888, meeting at the town of Doniphan, at Ten oriock, a. m., and proceeding over the Read, as located, will appraise and determine and assess the damages done to the real estate over which the Read will pass, according to law. orial ranks would suffer.

The wife of Senator David Davis, of Illinois, died recently. Death grabbed at the wrong side of the bed, that time.

(Written for the Chief.) IN MERCHIAM. (NOVEMBER 1st.)

October, the golden and glorious, Has followed the years that are dead, And his bier, like some warrior victor.
With banners of crimson is spread.

The sun in the clouds hides his splendor The moon's waning crescent grows pale, While the earth, in her secrew, draws round her A floating impalpable reil.

The streams to each other cease calling, The winds are all hushed into sloop, And the dew, that like tear-drops is falling, Is chilled into frost as they weep.

He had pressed the red wine from the vintage. And the erchard its tribute had paid, But the last of her hours have been numbered Ere the bright plumes of Autumn could fad-

The May-time Spring's beauty uncloses, And the breath of her violets is sweet, While June, in a garland of roces, Held us captave with love at her feet

But October was "born in the purple," And reigned with a glory his own, Then gathered his garments around hir And died, like a King on his throne.

CURED OF DRINKING.

"A young friend of mine was cured of an insatiable thirst for Liquor, that had so prostrated his system that he was unable to do any business. He was entirely cured by the use of Hop Bitters. It allayed all that burning thirst; took away the appetite for liquor, made his nerves steady, and he has remained a sober and steady man for more than two years, and has no desire to return to his cups, and I know of a number of others that have been cured of drinking by it."—From a leading R.
